PERHAPS, Governor Frear could find some reasons for Kuhl's criticisms of our land policy by a close investigation of the Omao Settlement Association.

THE GARDEN ISLAND is in receipt of an invitation to the commencement exercises of the Territorial manual and training school which took place Monday, June 19, 1911 at eight o'clock p. m.

THE action of the Road Board in discharging a lady clerk from the simple fact that she had not been a resident for one year, puts another of Honolulu's bunch of officials in the class which supports politics and idiosyncrasy in preference to qualifications.

It is rumored that an examination of the teeth of 500 hundred school children has brought out the astonishing fact, that more than 99 per cent need attention and that of the teeth examined 55 per cent were decayed. The Board of Education will certainly fall short of its duty in case it fails to take steps towards appointing a committee to investigate the matter and make recommendations. Whether there is any truth in the rumor or not, the fact remains that Dr. Geo. Huddy, some time ago, made an examination of the teeth of the children of the Kapaa School, and a report from this very able dentist might throw considerable light on the subject.

SOME surprises were sprung in rearranging the teaching force for the ensuing year, among the most noticeable ones, being a change in the supervising principals, Mr. C. O. Smith being succeeded by Prof. H. H. Brodie, who for a number of years has been the principal of Hanapepe School. Mr. Smith returns to his former position—principal of the Kealia-Kapaa School.

Other changes among some of the leading educators of the island, includes the resignation of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander who have taught in the Lihue School for years, a transfer for Miss Mumford, Miss Ellis, Miss Hoopili and Miss Jordan from Hanamaulu to the Lihue School, and a transfer for Mrs. E. B. Bridgewater and Miss Chang from Hanalei to Hanamaulu.

Rev. W. C. Merritt, at one time head of the Oahu College, came to Kauai last week and returns this afternoon, after having spent a few days in connection with his work as Secretary of the Pacific Northwest Department of the International Sunday School Association. His many friends here among whom are not a few former students, have been very much pleased to grasp his hand again, and hear his genial voice after his absence of nearly twenty years from the islands.

Masson Escaped Enraged Crowd

(Special to the Garden Island)
Honolulu, June 18.—Twenty thousand persons gathered here today to see Masson make a start on his trip from the park to Lelehu. Masson refused to fly on account of the wind. His dilly-dallying enraged the crowd and he escaped a drubbing by making a get away in an automobile. The flight from Lelehu to Kapiolani Park was made in 19 minutes in the early morning. The Rapid Transit broke all records in carrying passengers.

at my service. Do I want to know what the world is doing, your wireless daily tells me. Another attractive development is in the increased numbers and increased beauty of your homes. One cannot but be impressed with these, and they speak very forcefully of the quality and character of your people.

Another notable impression upon my mind is the high character of your public school work. The English language and the public school are among the most efficient solvents of the race problems you face. It has been a pleasure and extremely interesting to me, as I have looked into the bright and eager faces of the children of this and other islands in the public schools, seeing before me Hawaiian, Chinese, Japanese, Portuguese and English and to recognize that they understood me.

Another most potent factor in the solution of the race problem on these islands and in which it seems to me Kauai is leading, is what I may call the recognition of the human being or human rights in all these peoples. Respect shown them develops in themselves respect, without which the individual cannot be lifted up in manhood. I am here in the interest of still another factor essential to the highest type of manhood, viz. The knowledge of and obedience to the word of God.

The better and more helpful teaching of the Bible in the Sunday School is one of the most vital and uplifting forces at work today among the nations, and is as essential to the best here as every where. I note with great satisfaction the absence of the saloon on your island, a matter in which Kauai leads all the Islands of the Territory. Of course I must mention the presence of Old Glory as one of the pleasing changes to me. Long may it wave! So with all these factors at work I cannot be surprised at your good government, in which I note with pride that some of my former pupils are working, and your evident prosperity. May it continue and increase is my fond wish and hope.

W. C. MERRITT.

Death Trails In Wake of Aviators

(Special to the Garden Island)

Paris, June 19.—Two aviators killed, and four injured in a most sensational manner marked the start of the Paris to London flight yesterday. Fully a million spectators watched the start, which was made by fifty contestants. Captain Pinetau, of the army, had reached a great height, when his motor exploded and his body was burned before he reached the ground. A second man lost control of his car and was dashed to the ground and crushed beneath his car. Several others were fatally injured by gasoline explosions.

Mrs. De la Vergne Gone To Last Rest

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Yesterday's Star contains the following relative to the news of the death of Mrs. De la Vergne, of Los Angeles:

Mrs. Charles M. Cooke this morning received a telegram telling of the death at Los Angeles of her sister, Mrs. George De la Vergne, wife of Colonel De la Vergne.

It is many years since Mrs. De la Vergne was here, but she has many friends here, for she renewed the friendships from time to time by meeting Honoluluans on the mainland, and she came back here for a trip.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Rice, and was born at Lahainaluna, on May 10, 1864. She has a brother here, William H. Rice, of Lihue.

The marriage to Colonel De la Vergne took place some years ago, and since that time the deceased has resided on the mainland, chiefly at Colorado Springs, Colorado, and Los Angeles.
